

21st February 2011

Rathdowney Polska Sp. Z.o.o. is seeking to add an experienced Database Manager / GIS Specialist to its team in Poland. The successful candidate will have 5+ years experience in the design and management of databases, preferably in a mineral exploration environment. The successful candidate must be highly proficient in Microsoft Access, as well as MapInfo and Discover. Duties will include managing the company's mineral exploration database in Poland, data compilation and processing using MapInfo / Discover, compilation and digitizing of historical data, registration of maps, creation of various geological diagrams and cross-sections and direct collaboration with the company's Senior Geologists for data interpretation. Fluency in Polish is desirable but not essential. This is a full-time position based at Rathdowney's field base near Krakow, Poland.

An attractive remuneration package is on offer to the right candidate.

Please forward your CV to jobs@rathdowneyresources.com, using the subject 'GIS Specialist – Poland' no later than 5pm, 4th March 2011.

For further information on Rathdowney Resources visit www.rathdowneyresources.com

