Les Brown Karst tracer tests in Fermanagh and Cavan

This presentation provides an update of cave exploration and ongoing dye-tracing undertaken by the Speleological Union of Ireland within the caves and karst of the Dartry Limestone Formation in Cuilcagh uplands of counties Fermanagh and Cavan. The presentation identifies the geological controls of flow pathways and pieces together key sequences in the evolution of the karst aquifer.

Speleological Union of Ireland (SUI) is the National Governing Body for caving in Ireland and Northern Ireland.
